Out of us all
That make rhymes
Will you choose
Sometimes—
As the wind use
A crack in the wall
Or a drain,
Their joy or their pain
To whistle through—
Choose me,
You English words!

I know you;
You are light as dreams,
Tough as oak,
Precious as gold,
As poppies and corn,
Or an old clock;
Sweet as our birds
To the ear,
As the barrel rose
In the heat
Of mid-summer;
Strange as the races
Of dead and unborn,
Strange and sweet
Equally,
And familiar,
To the eye,
As the dearest faces
That a man knows,
And as lost homes are;
But though older far
Than oldest yew—
As our hills are, old—
Worn new
Again and again;
Young as our dreams
After rain,
And as dear
As the earth which you prove
That we love.

Make me content
With some sweetness
From Wales
Whose maidlings
Have no wings—
From Wiltshire and Kent
And Herefordshire,
And the villages there—
From the names, and the things
No less,
Let me sometimes dance
With you
Or climb
Or stand perchance
In ecstasy,
Fixed and free
In a rhyme
As poets do.

RED CROSS APPEAL

The Red Cross Society makes its annual appeal for funds May 1 to 6. The splendid work carried on by this Society is so well known, as to need no special items in its favor. They need money however to carry on their assistance to people in need and to continue their aid to the Junior Red Cross Crippled Children's Hospital. A most worthy cause. Do not delay. Send your contribution large or small to Commissioner L. A. Col. Tomlinson, 17 Customs Building, Calgary.

Excellent Opportunity Given Young Women

Through the co-operation of the Federal and the Provincial Government, there is made available public money to enable young women from 15 to 25 years of age to secure a period of training for Home Service that would enable them to secure employment under favorable conditions. A training school for this purpose has been set up in Calgary is a most attractive home under the direction of competent instructors, and young women whose homes are in cities, towns or hamlets are invited to apply for admission. The course runs for a period of three months, ten being enrolled each month, and there is no tuition fee. For young women in good health and endorsed by reputable citizens, arrangements can be made to provide transportation and for Board and room accommodation under supervision without cost to the party for the three months period. There are several other advantages, but one of the main is the undertaking to help the young woman to secure a job at a fair wage and to supervise her in her work. Those to whom this privilege is offered must give an undertaking to work on some job for wages for a period of at least six months immediately after graduation, if a suitable place may be found for her.

This is an excellent opportunity for desirable young women anxious to improve themselves, and inquiries are invited by the committee in charge, in care of the Government Employment Bureau, Calgary.

Little David, while at a neighbor's, was given a piece of bread and butter and he politely said, "Thank you!" That's right, David, said the lady, I like to hear little boys say "Thank you". Well, added David, if you want to hear me say it again you might put some jam or jelly on it.

AND HE DID

"I shall die," prophesied the author, "unless you consent to marry me." "I'm sorry," said the maiden kindly but firmly, "but I will not marry you!" So the fellow went home and, after 62 years, three months and a day, became suddenly ill and died.

GERDA CHRISTOFFERSON, OLDS, SELLS PAINTINGS OF KING, QUEEN, TO CITY

A building but unassuming artist gets a shock of surprise when she finds strange people following her to ask about her work. Miss Gerda Christofferson, a pretty blonde visitor from Olds, looked dazed when a reporter called on her Wednesday afternoon. She hadn't expected that to happen when she sold two pictures of Their Majesties to city hall officials on Tuesday and departed with her fee. Interviewed at the home of her hostess Miss Marie Sharkey, Miss Christofferson was feeling very happy at having sold the pictures. She has sold others before, but they were mostly of children, done from life. The pictures of Their Majesties she had copied from a post card. She has another pair which she hopes to sell, slightly larger than the pair now in the city hall.

Miss Christofferson likes doing children though they can be difficult. "I did one of a little girl three years old and she had her fingers in my paints half the time," she said.

Miss Christofferson has had no special art training. She began drawing people's faces when she was very young. "At first I was always drawing my stars— you know, with a small mouth and large eyes. I thought then they were pretty," she explained. At Hassar, Alta, school where she received most of her education, the teachers urged her to take an art course, but this she has never done. She has no interest in landscape work or still life. Only faces interest her. She does them in oils, pastels or pencil.

"I got over the stage of thinking only of pretty faces long ago. I found out that all faces are interesting if you look at them long enough," she said. She lives at home with her parents. Mr. and Mrs. Christofferson of Olds. Her health has not been good during the winter and she was confined to the house much of the time and so has done more painting than usual. She is ambitious to do more portraits, but the market at Olds is naturally not very wide," she said with a smile.

Rockyford

The 1939 Spring seedling has started in earnest in the district. The high winds of last week were a bad setback and dried the land considerably, but it is to be hoped that there will be no more heavy winds. Many of the roads are banked up with the blown soil, while some have had the loose ground that had blown into lawns, off with the wagons.

A very enjoyable two tables of bridge was played at the home of Mrs. R. L. Stone on Thursday evening when Mrs. R. L. Stone and Mrs. E. McLean were in honor of Mrs. E. McLean who is leaving Rockyford shortly and for Mrs. W. Gibson of Vancouver who is visiting here at present. The highest score was made by Mrs. R. L. Stone who received a very pretty silver card tray.

A delightful lunch was served at the conclusion of the play.

The community gathered at the hall on Tuesday, April 18th, in a welcoming shower for Mr. and Mrs. E. McLean. Their wedding took place just prior to last. The orchestra who were on their way from Calgary had the misfortune to have an accident near Strathmore, and were unable to present. However the local artists stepped into the lurch and provided very creditable music for the dance.

At the lunch hour Mr. George Kennedy was called upon to extend the good wishes of all and present the happy couple with a beautiful case of silver, and many other individual gifts from the well wishers. Mr. E. McLean thanked all for the expressions of good will.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Hindson of Calgary spent the week end in Rockyford with their nephew and family the Stones. On Sunday all gathered at the home of Mrs. Gibson in a get together to visit with Mrs. W. Gibson of Vancouver. Mrs. Gibson's relatives of Acme drove over for the day.

Mrs. A. Higgins entertained several ladies at tea on Friday afternoon, April 21st when they entertained for a few of the friends of Mr. and Mrs. McLean before they leave for their new home in Nanton, the early part of May.

PILORIMAGE—

"THE STILL SMALL VOICE"

At this hour the great enemy and oppressor of all nations is reiterated insistence that a world war is inevitable. So wide is the unthinking acceptance of this fatalism that even Christians and women are saying in effect, "Way walt! Let's get done with it." By instantly and contently rejecting this terroristic suggestion war can be deprived of its impending menace. One of the most inspiring parables of President Roosevelt's message is that of Retschfaher Hitler and Premier Mussolini was his declaration: "I refuse to believe that the world is so necessary such a prisoner of destiny."

Yet what is to change the direction? What is to halt the nations from having like the Gadarene swine and running down a steep place into the sea? Roosevelt's answer is that "The leaders of great nations have it in their power to liberate their people from the disaster of this impasse."

Clearly on the heads of states there rests a tremendous obligation to lead toward peace, instead of war, and to give effect to their peoples' heartfelt desire for fair and friendly settlements but if they will not, are the people helpless? Can they do nothing to enforce their own peaceful purposes? Governments are effectively multiplying instruments of war. Cannot people marshal the forces of peace and make effective in national policies their instinctive feeling that what unites them is greater than anything that divides? Cannot the voice of a common humanity be empowered to bold the crime of war is checked? Cannot the peoples communicate to one another the truth about themselves and their own desire for peace? Sir Walter Davies in a letter to the London Times proposes that this be done by radio he urges eloquently that broadcasting could dispel, for example, the libels—"That hatred of killing the innocent is not shared by those under totalitarian rule; and that our desire not to kill and be killed is more desire for national ease."

Some things are being done along this line. Britain and Germany, for instance are broadcasting each to the other in their own language and some good results are reported. Where pro or propaganda controls, or where listening is restricted by means of equipment or by government regulations, results are limited. Even so, one quickly agrees with Sir Walter's declaration: "Man is man the world over. Broadcast truth can assure good better for every nation than the swiftest bombers."

Moreover those who would mobilize forces of positive peacemaking are not dependent on the radio. As the result of a series of bitter lessons, "man the world over" is being forced to consider some new old truths about himself. For instance he begins to awaken to his interdependence with his brother man and to deduce therefrom dependence on a common Father. Such truths as these do not have to be broadcast, for they are everywhere and continue to multiply, the still small voice carries over head and sees to "earth's remotest bound."

THE WORLD OF WHEAT

By H. G. L. Strang
 Director of The Crop Testing Plan

A member of the Government recently announced that the Dominion Treasury had expanded, on assistance for the West during the past eight years, the sum of 15 million dollars. Some of our good friends in the East have suggested that this is a very handsome contribution, and that Western farmers, therefore, should be more modest in their demands for further assistance.

We all agree that 15 million dollars is a lot of money, but there is something else to be remembered, too, which is that even during these distressed eight years the West contributed a much larger sum of money than 15 million to Eastern Canada. Professor Viner, a recognized world authority stated to the Lowell Commission recently that he calculated that Prairie Provinces contributed in normal years approximately 47 million dollars each year to the East, in the form of the higher costs farmers had to pay for the things they bought; these higher costs being the result of the high tariff protection enjoyed by Eastern manufacturing industries.

Far, then from the West having been an expense to the East, actually even during those last eight years of great distress and need, prairie farmers still paid to the East, as a bonus considerably more than they received from the Dominion.

It was Sunday morning in a men's class in a famous church school. "Will you please tell me," said a member to the teacher, "how far in actual miles is it from Beerbeke to the East?" I have heard the familiar phrase from Dan to Beerbeke, but have never known the distance. Before the answer could be given, another member rose in the back of the room and inquired, "Do I understand that Dan & Beerbeke are the names of two places?" "Yes," "Well, that is one of the things I always thought they were husband and wife like Sodom and Gomorrah."

RADIO OPINIONS

AND NEWS—Week in Review
 PUBLICITY DEPARTMENT CFAC

Time Changes—
 The late Will Rogers once said in a radio broadcast—"You know, we live in the West have got the edge on you who live in the East. Why, we don't have to get up till three hours after you get up in full day's work, and we can stay up three hours after you folks have gone to bed and still get the same amount of sleep."

This bit of illogic occurred to us as we wrestled madly with that bugbear known as Daylight Saving Time. On April 29, the East will start using this device which means that all network shows coming from there will be heard one hour earlier here. You see we don't change with them—which makes everything just lovely, since the whole schedule must be revised.

The time change will be in effect Sunday April 30, so keep your eye on the new schedules and check the times. We don't want you to miss any of your favorite shows.

Kraft Music Hall—
 Roland Young English screen comedian and Katharine Marie special contract, will be guests at the Kraft Music Hall, Thursday, April 27th.

MAY ROBSON, charming and popular veteran of stage, screen and radio who is to be starred on the Lux Radio Theatre over CFAC May 1, celebrated her 75th birthday this morning. Among several parties for Miss Robson was a huge affair on Wednesday, April 19, given by Jack Warner on one of the big studio sound stages.

Help Thy Neighbor—
 Built around the idea that many unemployed citizens might find work, if their qualifications were made known to prospective employers, CFAC presents their new program "Help Thy Neighbor."

Briefly, the program is conducted in this manner: Each applicant is interviewed on the air, and his qualifications and suitability for certain types of work are brought out in the interview. Those who wish to employ such a person are asked to contact CFAC immediately, giving the code number of that person.

The presentation is called "Help Thy Neighbor" in recognition of the original program which goes under the same title. It is non-commercial and in no way corresponds to an employment agency. All service in connection with the program are voluntary, and CFAC sets aside the time without cost.

"Help Thy Neighbor" is heard every Tuesday evening at 8 p.m. over CFAC.

Blowing His Own Horn—
 This is one time the Publicity Department got right in on the ground floor—in fact was part of the act.

A few nights ago Jack Bennett and a member of the Publicity Department were driving down to the station in Bennett's pride and joy, "The Spirit of St. Vitus." The lights weren't working quite properly and Jack indulged around with the switches—then just as we arrived at CFAC, the whole "miracle" of the wheel came out—dropping the contact of the horn, which blew blew, blew. The only thing to do to stop it was to cut the wire, so we just grabbed fistfuls of cable and yanked. Finally the horn stopped.

This was once the radio had an audience they could see—including a publicity cop. After it was all over the technical department was called in. In less than a week the car was running again almost as good as new, except for the chromium top of the horn, which was thrown out as junk by the taker.

Wanted—A Man Who Can Imitate Three Puppies.

Some of the wildest auditions in the history of radio are now going on to determine who'll play the part of three mongrel puppies in "The Love of Dr. Sigmund," the day serial which is broadcast over CFAC.

 The puppies are not heard at first as they are too young to be audible. But they soon develop whimpering which gradually becomes growling with scattered barks here and there. No one has been found to date who is able to state realistically in a canine way. Then too, there's the difficult problem of finding someone who gets across the effect of three puppies in a scrap which is just one of the problems.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

"Elevating Punishment" is the subject of the Lesson-Sermon at the Christian Science Churches on Sunday. The Golden Text is Genesis 18:25. One of the Scriptural chapters is Israel built cast of the thing that is good, the enemy shall pursue him (Hosea 8:3). One of the corrective passages from "Science and Health" with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, is "Does not Science show that sin brings suffering as much today as yesterday? They who sin must suffer. With what measure ye mete it shall be measured to you again."

THE A. L. SEARLE $1000 FARMERS' ESSAY COMPETITION

The Searle Grain Company, Ltd. announces that the chairman of their Board of Directors, Mr. A. L. Searle, has contributed $1,000 for a prize farmers essay competition. The first prize is $250.00; the second prize, $150.00 and the third $100.00 with the balance of $500.00 to be divided between the remaining essays that are considered worthy of a prize. Any farmer over 21 years of age, and who is in any part of Alberta, Saskatchewan or Manitoba is eligible. The prizes will be awarded for the best essays describing methods or practices concerning the production or management of crops or land or farm machinery, and which methods the contestants are actually using and which have been found to be useful and profitable. (The competition does not refer to livestock production or management.) Preference will be given to practices and methods that are not at present in general use, but which may be used by a large number of farmers. Essays should be forwarded to the Searle Grain Company, Ltd., not later than June 15th. The judging will be done by the University of Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba, for their respective provinces, and the Dominion Experimental Farms at Ottawa, will be the final judges for placing the higher prize.

Arrangements will be made to publish those essays containing information that may be of value to all farmers.

The teacher was so anxious to cure
 Sam of his lip that he promised to give him a dime if he would learn to say "Saucy sister Susie still stiches sugar sacks so slowly."
 In two days Sam had mastered the sentence, and the delighted teacher at once handed him the promised coin.
 "Now, I think your lip is quite cured,
 Sam, don't you?" he asked.
 Yet, this, Sam answered.

MORE'S FROM HENS
 Isn't it natural that well fed poultry will lay more than slack birds? Your hens will be healthy and lay more eggs if they get the minerals they need to make eggs, instead of draining their body of those minerals and becoming more subject to disease. Feed Watkins Mineralized Poultry tonic and keep your flock in good condition.

Mr Dabb—Often when I look up at the stars in the firmament I cannot help thinking how small, how insignificant, how miserably low I am.
 Mrs Dabb—And is that the only time that thought occurs to you, Mr
 Dabb?
